The infamous South Beach venue, Mynt Lounge has been known to draw its share of celebrities. The modern and luxury style decor along with its red velvet ropes grants the purely fabulous the possibility of entry. House music is the sound of choice along with today's top hits (open format) gets the crowd dancing under high tech LED fixtures, as bright strobe lights hanging from the ceiling provide a flickering glimpse of the Miami party scene. Mynt sometimes holds special events over the weekend that include live entertainment and guest star DJs. A full bar accommodates every tastebud, but this VIP nightclub specializes in customer satisfaction with its elite table service. The dress code is strict so dress to impress if you want to pass one of the most stringent door policies in the area.

We come to Mynt to see and be seen: with a bit of luck, you will surely be able to roll the R's with Ricky Martin, discuss brushing with Paris Hilton, or your latest short film with Sean Penn. Otherwise, you can always follow the choreographies with a few local figures in micro sequined dresses. The clientele is young and the atmosphere is electric. The club isn't getting old either, with a slew of $1 million makeovers every summer; one more reason to go there on its 31.
