At Polwindow the imagination becomes reality!

Door and window joinery for energy-efficient buildings, historical-style windows with espagnolette rod, arched windows, false arches, biometric double bolts, two-coloured windows, old-style front door reproduction, and rare woods (larch) are not special for us.

Since 2009 Polwindow Distribution has successfully supplied all kinds of window and doors products made to measure for business clients across Europe. Cooperation with numerous Polish factories enables us to meet even the most sophisticated needs of our clients.

Please contact us; we'll gladly answer any query.

Wooden and wooden-aluminium windows

If you appreciate natural materials, their nobility and beauty, the best choice is wood. Its choice does not mean compromising the durability of windows and their thermal and acoustic insulation. Our windows' paint coats are covered with a 5-year warranty, but in reality they are much more durable, especially in bright colours. Wood is an excellent heat insulating material (especially the meranti wood) and acoustic insulating material (here oak is the leader). We offer windows made of many types of wood (pine, spruce, larch, meranti, oak) from FCS certified sources and in various shapes (full arches, basket arches, ellipses, so-called false arches, historical windows)

PVC Windows

PVC windows have been immensely successful in recent years and the demand for them keeps growing because of their numerous advantages, the biggest of which is the best insulating capacity to price ratio on the market. With the richness of their profiles, colours, shapes, aesthetic solutions, installation types, maintenance reduced to the minimum and short lead times, PVC windows are able to satisfy the needs of even the most demanding clients.

For our partner in the PVC product range we have chosen Aluplast from Germany, a brand that offers innovative solutions, a wide range of profiles, accessories, colours and the highest quality at very competitive prices.

Aluminium windows

Aluminium is a durable material with a modern appearance (hidden leaf, low profile), and does not require maintenance. Its stiffness enables use for glazing large areas: large sliding windows, mullion - transom curtain walls, and rooflights. Wide thermal break combined with ever increasing thickness of aluminium profiles, and with filling of high thermal insulation greatly reduces the distance that only a few years ago separated windows made of aluminium from those made of PVC or wood in terms of efficient insulation. Aluminium joinery is available in four paint finishes: smooth RAL colours, structured RAL colours, faux wood, and bi-colour.

Our partner for aluminium products is the Polish company Aluprof having decades of experience in pressing high-quality aluminium profiles, and considerable investment in innovation.
